“ Sorry to hear of Georgia's passing. I had the good fortune to come to know her in her later years. My Mom is also a resident at Loretto and they shared a dinner table for some time. I am a frequent visitor so I had many chats with Georgia. She used to live right around the corner from where I live today so we talked of Solvay. She would point out the window and tell me how she worked right there up the hill as an aide. She talked of a trip to Florida. She would talk about her 4 children and grandchildren and where they all lived. All the ladies did, it was like a competition, how many they had. That and their ages. Georgia's birthday was in July like my Moms so that was always a big thing. I also got to meet Joe; saw him often in passing. Joe was ever faithful to his Mom, took her out for weekly visits and that meant the world to her. We lost touch the past couple of years. Covid came and our Moms got shuffled around. But we could never forget Georgia. She was a spit-fire and I am grateful to have met her. My condolences Joe and to all your family. May she now rest in peace.
