This is quite touching and beautiful. You were not just my older brother but also my friend, surrogate dad and my hero. You were the one that looked out for me and protected me not just while growing up but also as adults. You were the one I looked at for brotherly wisdom and advice with my kids and you were always there if I needed you even if only to just hang out and sarcastically kid each other. Now I can only do that to your photo. I don't understand why God chose to take you so soon but I have to believe he had his reasons. Altho you have left a very big hole in all the hearts of those you left behind. I must have faith that you are now at peace and will continue to watch over me and all your loved ones from Heaven above. There is nothing anyone can say I do to ease the pain we feel at your loss. Only in time will it get a little easier to deal with. You were the best big brother a sister could ever ask for and I will cry over you for a very long time but I also know that as long as I keep your memories alive in my thoughts, my prayers and my heart you will forever be with me. I will never forget you my brother and I hope you are up there hanging and laughing with Dad and running your much loved marathons you did while physically here. You will always be #1 in my heart for favorite brothers and I will miss you every second of every day until we meet up again in God's Kingdom. RIP Jay Harris (3/14/69-9/2/23)
